

From the holdings of Western Archives, Western University

So will likely
see them tomorrow.
Saw major Walker
several times -
his mother & sister -
this week - He has some lack
now - I met Mr's
friend Col. Smith & liked him
so much. He & his

TELEGRAMS:
"DORHAWK, LONDON"
TELEPHONE NO 676 MAYFAIR.

Nov. 18th

DYSART HOTEL,
HENRIETTA STREET, CAVENDISH SQUARE,
LONDON, W.

Dearest Mother -
My Sunday
letter! Have just had a phone message
from Mrs Cockshutt
say she was over on leave & that she expected Mrs Campbell
tonight.)

wife came to tea - & then I saw them at the Savoy last evening.

Tell Alice I got her note about the green dress. & likely it will arrive in a day or two.

The regulations are so strict now that not one cotton goods is allowed in England at all - & so our little unengaged may be his up - mother sent me so flowers which have not

TELEGRAMS:
"DORHAWK, LONDON"
TELEPHONE No. 676 MAYFAIR.

DYSART HOTEL,
HENRIETTA STREET, CAVENDISH SQUARE, LONDON, W.

And now a
good Controller!
Pur mother when
He says that will
picture us starring
I am sure. It is undoubtedly a
wise measure to take - as evidence
No war is far from

arrived - We cannot send any Xmas cards even to the U.S. so we are getting more & more cut off
as it were - & are more restricted.

being over.

Mrs. Alphons has been here again this week. I have seen Mrs. Bells once or twice - & a friend of mine Mrs. Sedgwick wife of Col. Sedgwick in the regular army as he had to leave on duty to meet a friend of his Mrs. Morgan.
Osborne is turned out to be Steamer Smallway. He is so pretty & attractive - & is liked all about everywhere.

again for I always
liked her
I think that is about all the Sudan news.
Is it - it - startling
about in some Hugly! It will evidently make great changes. English people are quite

TELEGRAMS:
"DORHAWK, LONDON."
TELEPHONE NO 676 MAYFAIR.

DYSART HOTEL,
HENRIETTA STREET, CAVENDISH SQUARE,
LONDON, W.

Dora Sabatt is living less than two hours of Mrs Bells has asked her
to tea one day - or rather will ask her
of minute to be also. It will be nice to see her

amused at his remarks
about Poplin's methods.

Well I must write to

M. yet this evening. - ~~So~~

I haven't had a chance all day as Mr. Banks my

dear friend who now has a house at Huntley, Wells spent the day with the family

down to visit - but for a day or two next week.

Very much love & too alas

I'll write to Banks for Sunday to dress -

Sandy.