Biographical Sketch

The Leonard family came to London in the 1830's and has resided in London since 1840. Elijah Leonard, Jr. who came to Canada from the United States, established a successful foundry in London, and his sons and grandsons were active with this business until the 1940's. Several members of the family were actively involved in municipal politics and Elijah Leonard, Jr. was elected to the Senate in 1862. The family was also dedicated to military service, with several members of the family serving in the local militia, attending the Royal Military College of Canada (RMC), and actively serving in World War I (WWI). The Leonard family was civic-minded and well-respected, with various family members having been chosen to chair commercial foundations and charitable organizations.

Scope and Content

This fonds consists of letters, diaries, photo albums, scrapbooks, and account ledgers relating to members of the Leonard Family of London, Ontario. The fonds also include photo albums and other documents relating to the Brinton Family - principally Sarah Brinton, wife of Ibbotson Leonard.

Arrangement

The fonds is arranged into the following series:

- Series 1: Leonard Family correspondence and other documents
- Series 2: Elijah Leonard records
- Series 3: Frank E. and Alice Louise (Ibbotson) Leonard correspondence and other documents
- Series 4: Ibbotson Leonard records
- Series 5: Woodman Leonard records
- Series 6: Photographs
- Series 7: E. Leonard and Sons business documents
- Series 8: Sarah M. (Brinton) Leonard personal documents
- Series 9: Brinton Family documents and photographs

Finding Aids

File and item lists are available.

Custodial History

In 1974, with the death of Ibbotson Leonard, the family's papers and personal items were given to the London auction firm, Bowley's.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

The 1974 auction at Bowley's saw the fonds divided between the University of Western Ontario's regional collection and a private collector, Mrs. E. Somerville. Upon Mrs. Somerville's death in 1976, her portion of the collection was donated by her husband, C.R. Somerville, to the University of Western Ontario. A letter in the collection file also indicates that the regional collection transferred some ephemera to the "London Public Library and Art Gallery".

Associated Material

By virtue of Elijah Leonard, Jr.'s marriage to the daughter of Elijah Woodman, and her son Frank Leonard's interest in Elijah Woodman's personal papers, this fonds is associated with the Elijah Woodman Family fonds held at the Western Archives. Please see finding aid AFC 65.

Woodman Leonard's attestation papers and copies of the war diary from April 9, 1917 (the date of his death) are available electronically through the website of Library and Archives Canada.

Transcripts of Woodman Leonard's war diaries and other material are held by the 1st Hussars Museum in London.

Source of Supplied Title

Title based on provenance of the fonds.

Conditions Governing Use

For preservation reasons, restrictions on photocopying apply to some scrapbooks and Ibbotson Leonard's degree in this fonds. Please see additional information provided within the individual series.

Series 2 Elijah Leonard records

Dates

ca.1830-1894

Extent

5 cm of textual records

6 volumes [textual material, graphic material]

Biographical Sketch

Elijah Leonard, Jr. was born September 10, 1814 near Syracuse, New York, second child of Elijah Leonard, Sr. and Mary (Polly) Leonard (née Stone). In 1830, he moved with his family to Normandale, Upper Canada and was employed at the ironworks and foundry of Joseph Van Norman. Although not formally educated, Elijah started his own foundry in St. Thomas, Ontario, partnering with his father and Philip Cady Van Brocklin in 1834. By September of that year, Elijah, Jr. was sole owner of the company he named E. Leonard, Jr. & Co. 1840 saw him move to London, ON and establish another machine shop and foundry at Fullarton and Ridout Streets. E. Leonard, Jr. & Co. produced, primarily, steam engines and agricultural machinery; in 1850, a second foundry was built at York and Waterloo Streets in London to handle the product demands.

In 1847, Elijah married Emeline Woodman (b. 1819), daughter of Elijah Woodman, a London pioneer who was arrested and transported to Van Diemen's Land (Tasmania) for his role in the 1837-1838 Upper Canada rebellion. Elijah and Emeline had six children:

Frank Elton (1848-1923)

Edwin E (1851-1873)

Charles Weston (1852-1912)

Alice Emma (1855-1861)

Ella Adelia (b. 1858)

Mary Adhia (b. 1860)

He served in the local militia as an ensign in 1851 and was promoted to Captain in 1856. In 1841, Leonard was named the first president of the Mechanic's Institute, and he helped to organize London's volunteer fire brigade in the early 1850s. He was a founding member of the Horticultural and Mechanics Association and was elected to the first committee for the county agricultural society, the precursor of the Western Fair Association. In 1854, Leonard built an imposing Regency style home, "Locust Mount," at what is now 661 Talbot Street; the home was damaged by fire and demolished in early 2008.

Leonard's interest in local infrastructural improvement, particularly transportation and finance, is well documented. He became a shareholder in the London and Port Stanley Railway Company and, in 1857, was an incorporator of the London and Lake Huron Railway Company. In 1864, he helped to organize the London Savings Bank and was one of the original promoters of the Huron and Erie Savings and Loan Society (which was, until recently, Canada Trust). He remained director of Huron and Erie until the year before his death.

In the early 1870s, Elijah invited his two surviving sons, Frank and Charles, into partnership in the foundry; the company was renamed E. Leonard & Sons and focused on boilers as a specialty. With his sons now more engaged in the family business, Leonard devoted his later years to politics. He served as London's third mayor in 1857 and was elected to the Legislative Council of the Province of Canada for the Malahide division in 1862. He was appointed a senator in 1867, and he would hold this position until his death in 1891. Elijah Leonard, Jr. is buried in the family plot in section C at Mount Pleasant Cemetery in London, Ontario.

Scope and Content

This series contains records of local votes, scrapbooks, an essay and a biography. The record of local votes relate to Elijah Leonard's election to the Legislative Council in 1862. Included are an essay purported to have been written by Elijah Leonard in his youth plus an autobiography (Memoir) with 'a Son's reminiscences' by Frank Leonard concluding the publication.

Biographical Sketch

Frank Elton Leonard was born in London, Ontario on November 16, 1848, the second son of Elijah Leonard, Jr. and Emmeline Woodman. Frank was educated at London Central School. In 1875, Frank and his brother Charles became partners in their father's foundry business and the company became E. Leonard & Sons. He married Jane M. Williams on January 5, 1876 in Hamilton. Jane died only two years later in 1878. In 1880, Frank married Alice Louise Ibbotson (b. 1850) and they had six children:

- Benjamin Elijah Leonard (1880-1881)
- Elton Ibbotson Leonard (1882-1974)
- Edwin Woodman Leonard (1883-1917)
- Alice Leonard Cronyn (1886-1975)
- Estelle Leonard Carling (1888-1966)
- Elaine Leonard Schofield (b. 1892)

After his father Elijah's death in 1891, Frank became president of the family foundry. In the early 1900s, Frank was commissioner for the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway. He was a prominent and respected businessman in London, serving as a member of the London Board of Trade and as president of the Chamber of Commerce. He served as an alderman for the City of London in 1892, and was active in the London Club. Frank died in 1923, and Alice Louise in 1940; both are buried in the family plot in section C at Mount Pleasant Cemetery in London Ontario.

Scope and Content

This series contains correspondence written to both Frank and Alice Louise Leonard, as well as Frank Leonard's scrapbooks, school notebooks, and newspaper clippings. A certificate of remembrance from the Huron and Erie Trust Company, commemorating Frank's death and given to Alice Louise, is also included.

Biographical Sketch

Elton Ibbotson (Ibb) Leonard was born in 1882, the second son of Frank and Alice Louise Leonard. An intelligent and studious young man, Ibbotson attended Upper Canada College in Toronto and, in 1903, graduated second in his class from Kingston's Royal Military College. Ibbotson continued his education and received a Bachelor of Science Degree in engineering from McGill University in 1905. Ibbotson served 11 years with the 1st Hussars in his hometown of London Ontario - seven years spent as a squadron commander and two years as an adjutant. In 1914, Ibbotson married Sarah McConkey Brinton.

When war broke out in 1914, the 1st Hussars were not selected to accompany the Canadian Expeditionary Force to England. Lt. Col. Leonard was given command of the newly raised 7th Canadian Mounted Rifles, a cavalry unit, in February 1915. During the first few months, he was busy equipping, training and recruiting men, horses and officers. Ibbotson and the 7th CMR arrived in France in the late spring of 1915, tasked chiefly with building and maintaining roads, reconnaissance and acting as guides leading other units to the front. On 12 May 1916 Ibbotson became the second in command of the newly formed Canadian Light Horse, and he served with the Canadian Light Horse until the end of the war. Colonel Ibbotson Leonard was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for his dedication to duty.

Returning to London, Ibbotson took over leadership of the family foundry business and was named president after his father Frank's death in 1923. Ibbotson's and Sarah's first and only child, a son, Brinton Leonard, was born that same year. Ibbotson became president of the London Health Association in 1926, and was named president and lifetime member of the Association of Professional Engineers (Ontario) in 1932. He also served on the Town Planning Commission and was, for 16 years until his death, chairman of the London Division Commissionaires. Col. Leonard was secretary of the London Hunt Club but committee maintained an avid interest in horses, hunting and current events. Ibbotson died in 1974 and is buried in the Leonard Family plot in section C of Mount Pleasant Cemetery in London Ontario.

Scope and Content

This series contains correspondence written to E. Ibbotson Leonard, as well as his war-time and peace-time diaries and personal papers. Battlefield maps, financial records, scrapbooks, and documents for family-owned property in London, Ontario are included.

Conditions Governing Use

Series 5 Woodman Leonard records

Dates

1898-1917, 1921

Extent

24 cm of textual records

7 volumes [textual material, graphic material]

Biographical Sketch

Edwin Woodman (Wood) Leonard was born November 23, 1883 the third son of Frank Elton Leonard and his second wife Alice Louise Ibbotson. Woodman attended Upper Canada College and Royal Military College. He rose to Major in an artillery unit in the Canadian militia following graduation, and was also made partner in the family foundry business in 1910. In 1914, Woodman was called to train at Valcartier Camp, Quebec in preparation for the first Canadian Contingent's entry into World War I. As a Major in the 12th Battery of the 3rd Artillery Brigade of the 1st Canadian Division, he sailed from Canada aboard the troop ship Montezuma and arrived at Devonport Harbour on October 14, 1914. The 1st Canadian Division left England early in 1915. Woodman's correspondence home indicates that he was heavily involved in the 2nd Battle of Ypres (April, 1915). He was promoted to Lt. Colonel in 1916 and was, on June 22 of that year, given command of June of the 3rd Canadian Artillery Brigade, 1st Canadian Division. Woodman and his brother Ibbotson's diaries and letters record that Woodman and the 3rd brigade were present at virtually every major action Canadian troops were involved in during 1915 and 1916. At the battle of Vimy Ridge, on April 9th 1917, Woodman was struck by shrapnel in his left shoulder and was paralyzed below the waist, dying that same day. Woodman Leonard is buried in section II, row D, plot 14 of Lapugnoy Military Cemetery near Bethune, France. Lt. Col. Woodman Leonard was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for his wartime service to Canada.

Scope and Content

This series contains correspondence, scrapbooks, and diaries relating to the life and death of E. Woodman Leonard. Woodman's personal reflections during war-time and peace-time are recorded. Additions from family members after Woodman's death recount the story of his death, burial, and memorial services in his honour.

Conditions Governing Use

For preservation reasons, restrictions on photocopying apply to Woodman Leonard's scrapbooks, found in boxes X1925 and X1926.

Series 8 Sarah M (Brinton) Leonard personal documents

1890-1915

Extent

4 volumes [textual material, graphic material]
ca. 25 photographs

Biographical Sketch

Sarah McConkey Brinton was born in 1884, the daughter of Frederick Cruse Brinton and Mary D Brinton (née Huey). Sarah Brinton may have attended school at the University of California at Berkley. She married E. Ibbotson Leonard in 1914. After their marriage, Sarah followed Ibbotson to France during World War I; she spent almost four years in England and France working for various charities including Queen Mary's Guild and Lady Bentinck's House. She assisted in forming the Y.W.C.A.'s "Foyer des Alliées" in Tours, France. Following the war, Sarah was president of the London's Women's Auxiliary and was heavily involved in charitable functions supporting the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium. Sarah and Ibbotson had one son, Brinton Leonard, in 1923. Sarah died in London in 1974 and is buried alongside her husband in the family plot in section C of Mount Pleasant Cemetery, London Ontario.

Scope and Content

This series contains photographs, autographs, and a diary relating to the early life of Sarah Leonard. A small book of dance steps is included.
