FINDING AID FOR

Dr. Frank J. Hayden, O.C., Ph.D., LL. D Personal & Special Olympics Archival Fonds Collection - 1930 - 2019

Preface

Dr. Frank Hayden, his wife Marion and their four exceptional children sacrificed and dedicated their lives so that Dr. Hayden could pursue his ambition and passion as the world's leading advocate and professional fitness and sports programs trainer. for people with an intellectual disability.

It was Dr. Frank Hayden's conception, creation, creativity, development, legal mind, administration, inspiration, mentorship, leadership and fund-raising skills that has fostered and nurtured a worldwide movement. In his quest for equality and respect for all people with an intellectual disability he has attracted the influential high and the mighty, the proud sponsors, patrons and partners, thousands of committed volunteers and professional staff but more importantly millions of parents and millions more athletes who are the heart and soul of the movement that continues to grow.

1998 University of Calgary Convocation Address, "Pure Sport"

- First, Value People, all people;*
- Second, Value and Protect Your Relationships with those people;*
- and, above all, Value Yourself!*

Scope and Content

The research, development and preparation of the Dr. Frank J. Hayden Personal and Special Olympics Archival Fonds Collections is the result of the collaboration of Dr. Frank Hayden, Creator Special Olympics; Special Olympics Canada (SOC), and Glenn MacDonell, President, Special Olympics Ontario (SOO).

Special Olympics Ontario has taken the lead in working closely with Dr. Hayden to research, assemble and document his personal and Special Olympics files, audio visual materials and interviews to establish the Dr. Frank Hayden Library at the University of Western Ontario, University Archives Department.

In the preparation of the Dr. Frank J. Hayden Personal and Special Olympics Collection it was agreed that to identify and recognize Dr. Hayden's work as being of outstanding significance and national and international importance it should be separated into three parts; the Master Collection document and two companion Appendices to be delivered in six legal storage size boxes.

The development of the Master Collection had its early challenges, specifically in the critical areas of validating dates and locations to document, describe and illustrate Dr. Frank Hayden's remarkable body of work and those who contributed to it during the period 1950 - 2018 was drawn from hundreds of sources.

Appendix (A) is dedicated to his personal collection of thirty-two files containing historically important detailed materials covering the period 1963 to 2001, stored and separated in Box 1 - Files 1 to 16 and Box 2 - 17 to 32. File 32 contains his curriculum vitae and biography and to provide an insight into Dr. Hayden's personal perspective on his life as the Founder of SO we have added two lengthy interview papers, one conducted by Shelly Hobbs and the other by Chantel Schutten

Appendix (B) is dedicated to his personal collection of audio-visual SO materials for the period 1950 to 2018, stored and separated in Box 3 - Volumes 1 & 2, Box 4 - Volumes 3 & 4 Box 5 - Volumes 5, 6 & 7 and Box 6 - Volumes 8, 9 & 10, containing films, video tapes, CD's, DVD's, photographs; small and large, coloured and black and white and negatives, directions to YouTube links and Volume 9 includes Schedules 1 - Honours & Awards & 2 - Photos of Memorabilia.

In December 2017 and 2018 Dr. Frank Hayden bequeathed his archival fonds collections to the Western Libraries Archives and Special Collections Centre.

Dr. Frank J. Hayden, O.C., Ph.D., LL. D — Creator - Special Olympics

Born in Windsor, Ontario on January 11, 1930 and grew up in St. Catharine's, Ontario. He attended the University of Western Ontario from 1951 to 1955 earning an Honours BA Degree in Physical Education. In 1958 he earned a Master of Science degree in Physical Education from the University of Illinois and in 1962 received his PhD in Physical Education from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, Illinois.

His area of interest was in the physiology and psychology of sport and exercise for persons with an intellectual disability.

Professor Emeritus at McMaster University in Hamilton, Canada, Dr. Hayden has also served on the faculties of the University of Toronto and the University of Western Ontario. From 1975 to 1981 he was Director of the School of Physical Education and Athletics at McMaster.

A graduate of the University of Illinois, Physical Fitness Research Laboratory, he has spent over 40 years designing, creating and demonstrating exercise and sport programs. In 1958, Dr. Hayden was appointed to the rank of Flight Lieutenant, R.C.A.F based in Trenton, Ontario where he and Dr. William Orban co-developed and co-authored the R.C.A.F.'s famous 5BX Program launched in 1959. In 1966, he co-authored the first national study of the fitness of Canadian children, a project which involved 11,000 boys and girls from coast to coast and provided the basis for the Centennial Fitness Program and, later, the Canada Fitness Awards.

From 1965 to 1968, Dr. Hayden served as Director of Sport and Recreation at the Kennedy Foundation and from 1968 to 1972 as Executive Director, Special Olympics Inc. in Washington, D.C. His work there ranged from developing new concepts in playground design to the establishment of federal legislation to assist persons with a disability. Perhaps his most significant accomplishment was the creation and development of "Special Olympics".

From 1981 to 1984, Dr. Hayden took leave from McMaster, established Special Olympics Office of International Development, and served as its first Director of International Program Development. He designed and directed international growth of the program from 15 national organizations to 50. His travels have taken him across Europe, South and Central America, Asia and the South Pacific, Africa and the Middle East, North America and the Caribbean.

In 1988, Dr. Hayden took early retirement from McMaster and moved to Paris to establish and direct the Office of European Affairs for Special Olympics International. In the two years which followed, 13 new national organizations were created in Europe, making a total of 30, stretching from Moscow to Reykjavik and Oslo to Nicosia. A total of 2,300 athletes from those countries competed at the European Summer Games in Glasgow, Scotland in July 1990.

The Paris Office became the focal point of promotion, communication and technical assistance for sport training and competition for the mentally handi-capped in Europe. In October 1990, Dr. Hayden turned over the office and European affairs to European personnel and returned to Canada. From 1994 to 2000 he served as Special Consultant to Canadian Special Olympics.

In December 1994, citing “his outstanding and lasting contributions to the lives of people with intellectual disabilities through sport”, MacLean’s magazine named Dr. Hayden to its Honour Roll of 12 Outstanding Canadians.

In 1996 Dr. Hayden was the recipient of the prestigious Royal Bank Award for “Canadians who have made an important contribution to human welfare and the common good”. In March 1997, as part of its 20th Anniversary celebration, The Toronto Eaton Centre included Dr. Hayden among the distinguished group of individuals they honoured for having achieved excellence in their fields and for having made substantial contributions to the civic life in Toronto. That same month he was made an Honourary and Permanent Member of the Canadian Olympic Association.

On April 22, 1997, Dr. Hayden was introduced in the Canadian House of Commons in Ottawa and honoured at a Parliamentary reception hosted by the Speaker. Later that year he was presented with the Alumni Community Service Award by the University of Western Ontario Alumni Association.

He was awarded the Honourary degree, Doctor of Laws, by Saint Mary's University in 1994, McMaster University in 1997, the University of Calgary in 1998, the University of Toronto in 1999, the University of Western Ontario in 2011 and Memorial University, Corner Brook Campus on May 18, 2017. In 1999, he was named an Officer of the Order of Canada. In 2000 was appointed a Citizenship Judge by the Privy Council of Canada. and on January 26, 2012 named to the Order of Ontario.

Other Awards and Honours of National Significance

On April 28, 1999, Dr. Frank Hayden was Appointed an Officer of the Order of Canada and on February 9, 2000, the Investiture took place at Rideau Hall In Ottawa at a Ceremony Presided over by the Governor General. In 2002, he was Awarded Queen's Golden Jubilee and in 2012 the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal to mark the 60th Diamond Anniversary of Elizabeth II's accession. On November 1, 2016, he was inducted into Canada’s Sports Hall of Fame in the Builder Category.

Special Olympics International (SOI) 2017

Special Olympics is the world's largest sports organization for children and adults with intellectual disabilities, providing year-round training and competitions to more than 4.5 million athletes in 172 countries. Special Olympics competitions are held all around the world—including local, national and regional competitions, adding up to more than 94,000 events a year. The Special Olympics organization is recognized by the International Olympic Committee. Source: SOI www.specialolympics.org

Special Olympics training and competitions are held every day around the world and includes local, regional, national and World Games. The goal of the Games at all levels is to stimulate more activity at the local club level by showcasing the skills and accomplishments of people with intellectual disabilities on a global stage. The World Summer & Winter Games feature more than a week of competitions involving thousands of athletes. Through media coverage of the Games, the stories and achievements of children and adults with intellectual disabilities are made known to millions of people worldwide.

Special Olympics World Games take place every two years and alternate between Summer and Winter Games, a schedule similar to the Olympics and Paralympics. Attracting as many as 350,000 volunteers and coaches, plus several thousands of athletes, these World Games can be the world's largest sporting event.

Special Olympics athletes can compete in 32 Olympic-style summer or winter sports. The athletes are adults and children with intellectual disabilities who can range from gifted, world-class competitors to average athletes to those with limited physical ability. It's a fundamental rule of Special Olympics competitions that athletes are matched according to their ability and age. This "divisioning" process, as envisioned by Dr. Hayden, is to make every competition fair and competitive with the goal for all the athletes, not just the elite of achieving the world games level at least once to return to inspire other athletes and expand the local club programs.

The first Special Olympics National Summer Games were held in Chicago, Illinois, USA on July 20, 1968 while the first Special Olympics National Winter Games were held in Steamboat Springs, Colorado, USA from February 5 to 11, 1977. The 1st International Special Olympics Summer Games were held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, USA from July 12 to 18, 1983 attended by 50 countries.

In 1991, the status of the Summer Games was officially changed from International Special Olympics Summer/Winter Games to Special Olympics World Summer/Winter Games

In 2011, Special Olympics World Summer Games were held on June 25 – July 4 in Athens, Greece, involving 6,000 athletes with intellectual disabilities from 170 countries.

In 2013 the Special Olympics World Winter Games were held in PyeongChang, South Korea from Jan. 29 – Feb. 5, 2013. On January 26, 2013 PyeongChang introduced the Host Town program, in which families host Special Olympics athletes from around the world to help them acclimate to the host country, language and customs.

The Special Olympics World Summer Games held in Los Angeles, California from July 25 - Aug. 2, 2015, were the first Special Olympics World Summer Games held in the United States since the 1999 Summer Games held in Raleigh, North Carolina.

The most recent 2017 Special Olympics World Winter Games were held in Graz and Schladming in Styria, Austria from March 14 to 25, 2017, marking the return to Salzburg and Schladming who hosted the Vth Special Olympics World Winter Games in 1993 the first Special Olympics World Games held outside the United States.

In Recognition - In Perpetuity!

Dr. Frank J. Hayden, sports scientist, has dedicated his life to the conception, creation, development, fund raising and design and management of fitness and sports programs and projects for people with intellectual disabilities. As a prolific technical writer, he is the acknowledged pioneer and leader in authoring and publishing scientific papers and reports on the testing of children with intellectual disabilities including in 1964, "Physical Fitness for the Mentally Retarded and in 1984, The "Basic Guide to Special Olympic Coaching" which is still a widely referred to document, translated into Polish and Hungarian in 1991.

His intensity, passion and leadership has been credited with the removal of barriers that existed for centuries for people with an intellectual disability establishing fitness and sport standards that have improved their health, quality of life, self image and the pursuit of happiness. The result of which has attracted and motivated over 4 million people with intellectual disabilities in 169 countries and inspired millions more to support the cause; parents, volunteers, coaches, officials, staff, sponsors, supporters and patrons

Special Olympics Canada recognizes Dr. Hayden as a national treasure and humanitarian and wants to ensure that his legacy of national and international recognized and honoured body of work is protected and available in a manner that befits his standing within the Special Olympics movement and as a great Canadian!

In his mid 80's his compassion and commitment for each person with an intellectual disability has not diminished but is even stronger. As a high energy advocate for SO he continues to be in demand to speak to groups of all ages with more eloquence and persuasiveness than ever.

In November 2015 after years of acknowledging that Canada should honour the contribution and sacrifice of one of our own SOC and SOO agreed to take the first action step with Dr. Hayden's approval and involvement to create a plan to honour him in perpetuity by establishing the "Dr. Frank Hayden Library at a Canadian University.

In December 2017 and again in December 2018 Dr. Frank Hayden bequeathed to the Western Libraries Archives and Special Collections Centre his archival fonds collection

On October 22, 2018 - Western University, SOC & SOCF celebrated the creation of The Frank Hayden Endowed Chair in Sport and Social Impact in the School of Kinesiology, Faculty of Health Sciences, Western University. On June 12, 2019, Dr. David Howe, the first Frank Hayden Chair in Sport and Social Impact, met Dr. Frank Hayden at the Special Olympics Partner and Friends Reception in Toronto.

A copy made its way south and landed in the hands of Eunice Kennedy Shriver at the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation in Washington. Dr. Hayden received a phone call from a senior staff member to find out if he would be interested in coming to Washington to present his research in testing and improving the fitness levels of children with learning disabilities and would he send them anything else that he would like them to read. "We Need you to Come to Washington" This was coincidental with his presentation in Jan 1965 to the Canadian Association for Retarded Children (C.A.R.C) a proposal to submit to the National Centennial Commission to organize a National Centennial Games for Persons with an Intellectual Disability to be funded by the NCC as part of the Canada's 100th Anniversary Celebrations in 1967. In the package of papers and studies he had completed on improving the fitness levels of people with an intellectual disability he included the proposal for the National Centennial Games for Persons with Intellectual Disabilities. Three months later he received and invitation from the Kennedy Foundation to meet near Washington at the Timberlawn Conference Centre in Rockville, Maryland. When he arrived Sargent Shriver's first question was whether Dr. Hayden could organize something similar to the National Centennial Games for them in the United States References: 1963-10-17 - Personal File - Box 1 - File 1 1964-10-19 - Personal File - Box 1 - File 2 2008 - The Development of the SO - Chantel Schutten www.specialolympics.ca Dr. Frank Hayden Biography Box 2 - File 32	Copy File File Web WL

Kennedy Jr. Foundation, Washington -	The personal 61 documents and press clippings in this file reveal valuable historical evidence of Dr. Hayden's work to improve the quality of life for people with an intellectual disability. Dr. Hayden demonstrated that many long held professional medical assumptions that intellectual disabled persons had low fitness levels as a direct result of their disabilities were incorrect. While in Washington he worked tirelessly to change public attitudes, taboos and perceptions that people with an intellectual disability could not contribute to society. But more importantly, he opened a world of opportunity for people with an intellectual disability to improve their fitness levels and participate in sports to the best of their ability and by doing so they greatly improved their self image and confidence. The following are 26 of the 61 documents in this file separated into 10 areas considered of historical importance 1. The Shriver's insisted that he has the initial sample designs produced by the internationally renowned industrial design firm of Raymond Loewy & William Snaith although they were extremely expensive. A Junior Graphics Designer was assigned to the project who had difficulty interpreting the program design elements. Dr. Hayden gave him a copy of the Expo 67 stick figure logo as an example. This inspired the designer to create four stick figure designs that he would present to the Shriver's to select one and one finished design belonging to the Lion Crest Company. Eunice chose the Lion logo and convinced the President of the company to allow them to use it as the design for the awards program. The designer was disappointed and so was Dr. Hayden. However, Dr. Hayden liked one of the stick figure designs with the head and registered it without consulting the Shriver's. It became the logo used alone on the flag and in promotional materials of the 1st Special Olympics Games in Chicago in 1968. Reference: Dr. Frank Hayden Box 4 - Vol 4 - Tab 2	Copy Copy Orig WL

At the 1st Special Olympics Summer Games in Chicago in 1968, In Eunice's Opening remarks she reminded the athletes to consider their experience, "Let Me Win But if I Cannot Win Let Me be Brave in the Attempt". Herb Kramer, an award-winning author, wrote the speech and Dr. Hayden asked him where he found the words. Herb said, "well I just made it up from the Gladiators Oath at the ancient Games in Rome "We who are about to die for the glory of Rome Salute You!" Herb said I couldn't use that. A second purpose was to establish normative data for evaluating physical work capacity and body fat content of trainable retarded and nonretarded children. Thirdly, a comparison of the physical work capacity and body fat content of trainable retarded children was made with that of nonretarded children 12 to 15 years. A fourth purpose was to investigate the relationships between general physical activity level, percent body fat, and physical work capacity of retarded and nonretarded children. Limitations 1.The sample was drawn from retarded children attending day-school for the trainable retarded in the greater London and Hamilton areas, and nonretarded children in the London area. 2. Only those children with parental permission participated in the study. References: Boxes: 1975-10-56-01 and A18-002-017	Orig Copy WL

Jim Munson: Honourable senators, I know it is late in the day, but I promised Senator Raine that I would speak today on her inquiry. I worked closely with Special Olympics athletes and there was a time long ago when we had horrible names for those with intellectual disabilities and when such children were not allowed to play or to be part of sport. Can you imagine? These Special Olympians were not allowed to be part of sports. There are 32,000 Special Olympians in this country and millions around the world. Yet Dr. Frank Hayden, a great friend of mine we call him Dr. Frank in the Special Olympics movement convinced Eunice Shriver of the Kennedy family. It worked two ways. It did not come only from the Kennedys but started here in this country. They produced a report many years ago in the mid-1960s to say it was okay to allow those with intellectual disabilities to go out and play, participate and be part of our society. I think the rest of society must go back and allow children to do the same things. Source: Debates of The Senate, 3rd Session, 40th Parliament, Volume 147, Issue 31	Copy WL

I was a little sceptical. Google 'Special Olympics founder' and Eunice Kennedy Shriver will be confirmed as founder many times over. -This story made it clear, Burlington resident Frank Hayden was equally worthy of the title. If he wasn't the founder, he was - as Ontario Special Olympics CEO Glenn Macdonell describes him — the creator. - It's not like Hayden is anonymous. 'Dr. Frank' is held in the highest regard and is beloved in the field to which he has devoted his life's work. But for a man who has touched the lives of millions around the world for four decades, it seems every Canadian should know his name. Shouldn't he have at least beat out Avril Lavigne to crack the top 100 when CBC polled the country in search of the greatest Canadian?	Orig

Motivated by Dr. Frank Hayden	2015 - July 24 - Waypoint Centre for Mental Health Care - Sports and Recovery, "One Man's Journey" Excelling in sports is a matter of great pride for most athletes. For Martyn, this is especially true. For ten years his involvement in sports and the Special Olympics has helped him on his road to recovery, saying sports and team work make him happy. He has used these activities to help build his foundation for personal growth and self-awareness Source: http://www.waypointcentre.ca Refer to AV Collection - Box 6 - Vol 8 - Tab 3	Web WL

Hayden for induction Class of 2015 CSHOF (23 Page Presentation)	Darby Taylor - Special Olympic Athlete Nominates Dr. Frank J. Hayden for induction to CSHOF in 2015 In December 2014, Darby Taylor with the assistance of his mother Susan McDermott developed a 23-page nomination supporting Dr. Frank Hayden's induction to CSHOF. He submitted it to the CSHOF Honoured Member Selection Committee by the Jan 2015 deadline, but was not successful until 2016. He was told that in 2015 there were so many nominations because of the 60th Anniversary of CSHOF that not all deserving candidates could be recognized. Fortunately, Darby's nomination of Dr. Hayden was successful in 2016. Refer to Dr. Frank Hayden A/V Collection Box 6 - Vol 8 Tab 4	Copy WL

Elizabeth Dowdeswell, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario Program "A Place to Stand": A Celebration of 150 Years of Ontario and Canada The Hon. Elizabeth Dowdeswell, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, hosted "A Place to Stand": A Celebration of 150 Years of Ontario and Canada at 7:30 pm on Wednesday, June 28, 2017 at Roy Thomson Hall in Toronto. The gala concert was an opportunity for Ontarians to mark the sesquicentennial of Confederation while also honouring the newest members of the Order of Ontario and all who have joined this society of merit since its first investiture 30 years ago. "A Place to Stand" is a tribute to Canada in words, images, and song, compiled by historian Hugh Brewster and narrated by him and actress Cynthia Dale with music directed by Noel Edison. Freightliner USA manufactured the trucks with the Ride of Pride military themed tractors honouring Canadian and American armed forces veterans. Schneider Canada received its first of two trucks from Freightliner in 2011. Dr. Hayden volunteered to ride in the truck cab to bring attention to the distinguished and decorated military career of Dr. Frank Hayden's father, Joseph Francis Hayden during WWI. Private Hayden joined his hometown regiment, the Royal Dublin Fusiliers, 16th Irish Division at 17 and in early 1914 served in Sudan and India before being deployed to Belgium as part of the BEF. He was in the trenches facing the German elite forces in the Battle of Mons and volunteered to remain in the front lines to delay the German advance and allow the BEF to withdraw to the Paris line. He was captured and remained a POW for three and a half years. He eventually made his way back to Dublin after the war and then Canada making St. Catharines his first home and as life would have it he met and married a Brit.
