Citing Sources According to Chicago Style (16th ed.)

Notes-Bibliography Method

Use this guide to organize your citations using the Chicago Style’s Notes-Bibliography method. To organize your citations using Chicago Style’s Author-Date method, please refer to the Author-Date guide. It is based on the following publication, which is available through the library in both print and online formats:

The Chicago Manual of Style 16th Edition

Do not mix the elements in these two style methods that the Chicago Manual supports. Use one style method or the other.

Please consult the manual to cite materials not included below (e.g. videos, lectures, speeches, emails, etc.).
